EMANCIPATION IS CELEBRATED HERE

Ten Thousand Colored Excursionists in Paducah

Good Order Is Maintained and Record of Eighth of August Not Broken.

SOME INCIDENTS OF THE DAY.

This is Emancipation day, and it is being observed here by thousands of colored people from Indiana, Illinois, Kentucky and Tennessee. It is estimated that fully 10,000 colored visitors are in Paducah, and both city policemen and railroad detectives are combining to keep order. So far there has been no trouble. The streets were filled with dusky celebrators from early morning, and at Eleventh street and Broadway which seems to be the center of attraction for hungry visitors, the congested condition is looked after by several policemen.

Following is the schedule of special trains run into Paducah by the Illinois Central:

Louisville ($50 tickets sold last night before 8 o'clock) 9:05; Evansville, 12:40; Nashville, 12:45; Central City, 1; Memphis, 10:15; Jackson, 12:28; Fulton, 12:38; Jackson 12:48, and Cairo, 10:56.

For amusements there will be a baseball game at Wallace park this afternoon and at the colored park in Rowlandtown, Wallace park and the fair grounds barbecue and dances are features.

Several trains brought bands to the city, which with the local colored band, are furnishing music for the celebration. Visitors are orderly and little trouble was experienced at the morning trains, which brought hundreds to the city. Police look for a quiet celebration.

Traction Men Work Hard.

Lunches were served the motor-men and conductors today by the traction company. Traffic was so heavy that all the relief men were called into service, and the time could not be taken for the regular men to go home for dinner or supper. Most all of the employees will work between 18 and 19 hours today.

Collecting Licenses.

Police learned this afternoon that some thrifty, elderly white man had collected a nominal sum from keepers of stands around Eleventh street and Broadway, as license. He has not yet been caught.

Marshal William McCullom, of Kuttawa; Chief McNutt, of Mayfield, and Chief Young Eaker, of Fulton, are in the city today.

Fell From Street Car.

Mr. Jacob Weil, the retired capitalist, fell from a street car at 8:30 o'clock last night at Seventh street and Broadway and was bruised about the face and head, but not seriously injured. He stepped on the ground before the car came to a complete stop.

Old Sheffield Blade.

Mr. Willis Morgan has a razor over 100 years old. It was purchased by his stepfather in North Carolina and was made in Sheffield, England. The blade is about three inches deep, and one of the few razors of its kind in existence.

CURIOS EAR OF CORN OF GERMAN VARIETY

Much attention was attracted on market this morning by a tassel of corn brought to the city by G. T. Jacobs, a well known gardener, residing two miles from the city on the Cairo road. The tassel may be readily distinguished, but about it are many hundred little ears of corn not longer than one inch. When the coverings are pulled back something like a grain of corn may be seen. Farmers on market say it is known as German corn, but is not raised here. Every one of the little ears if left on the stalk will develop into one grain of corn, and when ready to pull resembles wheat when the grains are removed. Jacob found the curiosity several days ago, and let it alone, so it might develop, but the wind Tuesday night blew the stalk down and broke it. He pulled it and brought it to the city, and served as a good advertisement for his wagon this morning on market.

CONSTABLE IS SHOT OUT AT FAIR GROUNDS.

A. C. Shelton, the constable, was shot in the shoulder and arm by a negro at the fair grounds this afternoon. The fellow asked him for a chew of tobacco. Shelton started to draw the tobacco from his pocket, but first drew a gun. The other thought he meant trouble and shot.

JEALOUSY CAUSE OF SCOTT MURDER

Helena, Ark., Mystery Solved
So Police Think

City Editor of World Killed By Former Policeman Over a Woman's Fancy.

THE CASE IS CIRCUMSTANTIAL.

Helena, Ark., Aug. 8.—Ben Carruth, a former member of the police department, was arrested this morning by Sheriff F. F. Kitchen and lodged in jail on a charge of assassinating City Editor J. M. Scott, of the Helena World, who was shot down early Sunday morning while returning from work.

For some months prior to the death of Scott the feeling between him and Carruth is said to have been that of intense, bitter hatred on both sides, growing out of jealousy of a woman of easy virtue, who was the mistress of one of them. They had trouble over this woman before the Helena World began its crusade against the police department, and in a saloon came to blows. The fight the Helena World made on the department intensified the feeling between them, and when Carruth and the other members of the department were let out they were very sore on the Helena World and its employees.

Friends of Scott and Carruth looked for a bloody fight of some character to occur between them, and on Saturday night they met in a saloon and had a row that came near ending in the expected duel.

Immediately after the killing the sheriff's office, working in conjunction with Chief of Police Ed Scott and his force, began to trace the movements of Carruth from the time of the row in the saloon to the time the body of Scott was found weltering in its gore and mortally wounded some hours later. What they learned is a secret, but it, coupled with the known hatred each bore the other led to the apprehension of Carruth.

Woman in the Case.
An effort was made to locate the woman in the case, but she had left the city and no trace of her could be found. She is an important witness for the prosecution and lines are out in all directions for her capture.

Carruth is a young man, 35 years of age, single, and has been a member of the police department off and on for several years, and was one of the right-hand men of the former Chief Clancy, who was ousted some weeks ago.

JAPAN WANTS MONEY.

Jap Financier to Sound German
Bankers as to Loan.

Berlin, Aug. 8.—M. Soyeda, a financier of Tokio, will arrive here tomorrow from Japan, by way of the United States, with two secretaries. His object, it is reported, is to sound the Berlin bankers regarding the feasibility of an international Japanese government loan with German participation. There seems to be little prospect of M. Soyeda getting satisfactory assurances here, as the future of Japanese finance is looked on doubtfully by the bankers of this city.

ADVISES ARREST IF BOYLE SELLS

City Solicitor Denies Question is Settled Adversely

He Says Revocation of License By Mayor Yeiser is in Full Force and Effect.

GIVES OUT HIS INTERVIEW.

According to the city's side of the contention, the question of Mayor Yeiser's right to revoke, pending appeal, the license of Hugh Boyle, fined in the police court, for alleged Sunday selling, never was before Judge Barker, of the court of appeals, and any opinion given by the court was simply an off hand expression given in an informal discussion between attorneys and the judge.

Mayor Yeiser says he will take the written opinion of City Solicitor Campbell and Attorney Campbell Flomoy, and if they agree, he will have warrants sworn out for the arrest of Boyle for selling liquor without a license every day he keeps open his saloon.

This question of the mayor's right to revoke a license, when a man is fined in the police court, and he appeals, is important to Boyle, who has appealed from the decision of the police court, and wishes to continue in business.

At the trial Boyle pleaded not guilty, but when a witness for the prosecution took the stand, his attorneys withdrew the plea and refused to plead. Thereupon Police Judge Cross fined him, but put the amount high enough so that Boyle could appeal, as he did in a previous case, when the prisoner refused to introduce testimony, and his attorney asked the court to place the fine high enough for an appeal. If Judge Cross had fined Boyle less than $20, there could have been no appeal, and this question would not have come up. On appeal in a case of this kind, the case will be tried all over again in the circuit court, when, on account of delay of a couple of months, witnesses are likely to go away or to forget material facts. In this particular case a witness for the prosecution, who had been recognized to appear, was missing.

City Solicitor James Campbell, Jr., says he will advise Mayor Yeiser to proceed against Boyle if he keeps open, pending the appeal.

In an interview Mr. Campbell said:

"It seems from the newspaper account on yesterday of the rulings of Judge Barker in the case of Hugh Boyle against Mayor Yeiser, that a wrong impression has prevailed and the people in the city who are interested may be misled as to the attitude of the city thereunder. The city won as complete a victory as she possibly could under the circumstances in the hearing before Judge Barker, for the only question involved was whether or not Judge Barker should sustain or overrule the order made by Judge Reed several days ago and Judge Barker was of the opinion that Judge Reed's actions were entirely proper and sustained him all the way through."

"The final determination of all the details and questions involved in the controversy did not and could not come up in the hearing before Judge Barker, and the question of law, as to whether or not the mayor had the right, under the circumstances surrounding this case, to revoke the license of Mr. Boyle, is a matter of further determination by the circuit court and if an appeal is prayed to the court of appeals, it then becomes a question for the court of appeals, consisting of all the judges of the court of appeals, to pass upon."

"Judge Barker rightfully held that the determination of these questions

At the meeting of the board of aldermen this evening, Alderman P. H. Stewart will try and find out what the ordinance committee has done with the request for an ordinance, providing that dairymen selling milk in the city shall have their cows tested for tuberculosis once a year. Several months ago Alderman Stewart brought the question up in a meeting.

This morning the contract to build the new tannery in Mechanicsburg was let to Gus Lockwood for $5,598. Nine contracting firms bid on the contract and the figures ranged from $8,250 down to the contract price. RETAIL MERCHANTS

CLOSE ON HOLIDAYS

At the meeting of the Retail Merchants' association last night a resolution was passed for all the members to close all day Labor day in order to allow their employees a full holiday. The stores were closed Fourth of July all day, instead of after noon, as had been the custom and the Retail Merchants' association will pursue that custom on all holidays hereafter.

The meeting last night was the first in the association's new quarters, in the Woman's club building, and the members were well pleased with them.

having refused to go aloft in rough weather, it has been decided to reinstate the old "mast and sail" system of instruction in the harbor training ships.

This system was abolished about seven years ago, and with it went the old cruiser squadron consisting of fully-rigged steamships, in which youths were sent to sea before being passed out into the ships in the first line. The sailing brigs Nautlius and Liberty were also dismantled.

In the place of this system a new one was introduced by which boys were first sent to sea in the ships of the Particular Service Squadron, consisting of first-class armored cruisers. Sail drill, running aloft and such things were consigned to the limbo of the past, as having no place in an age of steam and steel.

The objections of many distinguished naval officers were overruled as being obsolete. They said that drill aloft trained the men in confidence and daring, and that its abolition would result in a falling off in those qualities in which the British blue-jackets has always been supreme. But the objectors were ridiculed.

Now the authorities have discovered that the naval officers were right, and the obsolete "mast and sail" drill is to be reinstated. We have been training our seamen in barracks for a good many years now, but a fully-rigged mast is to be erected in the grounds of the Shotley establishment to be followed, it is believed, by a similar modification in the training of youths when they pass out to sea. —London Express.

France Proposes Plan to The Hague
Tribunal and It Is Carried
By Body.

The Hague, Aug. 8.—The French proposal to prohibit crews of war ships from being paid prize money was discussed before the committee on the general convention and carried by 16 to 4.

Fourteen of the delegates abstained from voting and twelve were absent. Joseph H. Choate, of the American delegation, pointed out in this connection that the laws of the United States already prohibited the paying of prize money. Another proposal made by France that owners of captured merchantmen should be demilitarized and was defeated by thirteen votes to seven.

JACK THE SNEAKER' CAUGHT

Man Who Ruined Woman's Party
Gowns Confesses His Guilt.

Indianapolis, Aug. 8.—William R. Gadd, a man who is known to the police as "Jack the Smeaker," and who has ruined hundred of party gowns worn by women in this city, is under arrest. He admits his guilt but can assign no reason for his acts. He has lived here for eight years and though employed in a rolling mill, he has done some creditable painting and crayon work. In his confession he declares that he does not know what possessed him, "but he wanted to do it and did it." His depredations continued for three years. Mrs. Gadd was prostrated when she heard of her husband's arrest. He is thought to be insane.

A Puzzling Item.

In 1876 the late John Hay, who died as secretary of state, and Alvey A. Ade, who is now second assistant secretary of state, were serving together in the legation at Madrid.

They were intensely interested in the outcome of the Republican National convention, and spent days wondering who would be nominated. One morning they found this item in a Madrid newspaper: "Rutherford B. Hayes, has been nominated for president by the Republican National convention," and it took Ade and Hay a week to figure it out.—Saturday Evening Post.

That was as near as the Spanish editor could get to the bulletin: "Rutherford B. Hayes, has been nominated for president by the Republican National convention," and it took Ade and Hay a week to figure it out.—Saturday Evening Post.

Burns Cannot Meet Joe Gans.

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 8.—Following a conference between the management of Joe Gans and Jimmy Burns, who were to fight here August 16, and Manager McCarey, of the Pacific Athletic club, it was announced this afternoon that the fight has been indefinitely postponed owing to the fact that Burns was physically unfit to participate. The club physician and another doctor are said to have pronounced Burns' stomach in such shape that he is unable to fight.

A GIRL HAS RAILROAD POSITION.

Pretty Bessie Hanley Holds an Important Post in Vermont.

Rutland, Vt., Aug. 8.—Nineteen and a girl, yet station agent, mail carrier, express agent, baggage master and freight agent for the Central Vermont railroad—that is Miss Bessie Elizabeth Hanley, of East Granville, in the Green mountain range. And she has held all these jobs since she was seventeen years old.

Admiring friends claim that Miss Hanley is the only young woman in New England holding such a position, or such a multiplicity of positions that are so distinctively in the sphere of the male species. Although just emerged from childhood when appointed, she has done the work of her office for two years without black mark against her record.

Failure to be on hand at train time is unknown, not only to Miss Hanley, but to most of the residents of the hamlet, for there is not a great deal doing in East Granville during the four months of the year that are delightful, and still less during the eight months when the place is about the dullest spot in all the wide area of New England.

East Granville is near the uppermost portion of the pass in the Green mountain range through which the Central Vermont railway makes its way from one side of the state of Vermont to the other.

A lumbering community, extending for eight miles back into the mountains to the west, finds a point of connection by the road with the world and its market places. The amount of business transacted probably makes no appreciable difference in the dividends which the stockholders of the system receive, but it is of considerable moment in the operation of traffic through the great ravine and to the safety and convenience of the thousands of passengers on through trains between Boston and Montreal, as well as to the hundreds of tons of freight which daily pass the point.

For the care and watchfulness of the girl in charge of the company's depot, under the sheer cliff of the mountain side, depends their safety.

No difficulty is experienced by Miss Hanley in handling everything that comes East Granville way. She finds the railroad men all anxious to assist her. Although not many trunks are taken on at the little depot of which she has charge, when one does show up it has as much in it as the railroad will carry without excess rates, and the station agent's heart sinks when she saw the first few old-fashioned Saratogas intended for transportation.

New York, Aug. 8.—According to Herman Weeks and his wife, who arrived here today by the steamship Colon from Panama, the government has promised every man who brings his bride to the canal zone or marries there, a detached cottage. The result has been such a boom in marrying that the brides and bridegrooms are ahead of the cottages by several laps.

TROUBLE FEARED

OFFICIAL COUNT OF VOTE IN MISSISSIPPI TODAY.

Williams Men Say They Have Evidence of Peculiar Things in Possession.

Jackson, Miss., Aug. 8.—The Democratic state executive committee meets here today for the purpose of canvassing the returns and declaring in this state for United States senator a state officer. So close is the race in the senatorial contest that interest is at fever heat and all sorts of conjectures are made as to what tomorrow will bring forth.

The meeting promises to be sensational, there being some predictions that trouble would arise in event any compromise measures were resorted to. Each candidate for senator is claiming that the canvass of the vote shows his election. Vardaman by a bare majority, while Williams' friends claim at least a thousand.

Williams arrived today but would make no statement other than that he was elected. Congressman Bowers is also here in Williams' interests as are also several from North Mississippi, where Vardaman received some of his largest majorities, and it is said they have some startling evidence in their possession concerning the Vardaman vote in that section which will be produced in the event that the governor demand a recount. Vardaman men also claim irregularities.

WOULD SEIZE TRUST PROPERTY.

Senator La Follette Proposes Drastic Cure for Corporation Offenses.

Omaha, Aug. 8.—Senator La Follette today advocated confiscation of trust property as the penalty for such offenses as the Standard Oil company was convicted of. "The fine is none too big," he declared. "No fine could be too heavy for such a crime. It is too bad, the oil magnates could not be imprisoned. They will undoubtedly soak the people because they are in a position to. The remedy lies in making the penalty much greater. A fine of one-half a company's property for the first offense and the other half for the second offense would make it hesitate before breaking the law."

MALARIA A SYSTEMIC BLOOD POISON UNDERMINES THE HEALTH LAYS THE FOUNDATION FOR DISEASE

Malaria comes from the absorption into the blood of germs and microbes which destroy the rich, nutritive qualities of the circulation and reduce it to a weak, watery, disease-spreading stream. The healthy color of the skin is given to it by the millions of little red corpuscles which are in the blood. These are the carriers of nourishment and health to all parts of the body; in other words the very life and vitalizing essence of the circulation. The destruction of these corpuscles by the malarial poison takes the color from the cheek, and in the first stages of Malaria we have pale, sallow faces, poor appetite, a bilious condition is set up, and we feel "out of sorts" generally. But Malaria means more than this; it is a systemic blood poison, which undermines the health and gives rise to innumerable and sometimes serious disorders and diseases if the poison is allowed to remain in the blood. As the blood becomes more and more polluted with the malarial poison, the digestion becomes deranged, chills and fever are frequent, skin diseases, boils and carbuncles, and sores and ulcers break out on the flesh, and after awhile the foundation is laid for other diseases which either prove fatal or permanently undermine and wreck the health. Malaria can only be worked out of the system through the blood. Purging the liver and bowels with strong, nauseating cathartics can never remove the trouble because they do not reach the blood where the germs are constantly multiplying. The only hope for a cure is a remedy that can destroy the germs and microbes, and neutralize

Plea for Wrestling.

Prof. Reinhold Begas, one of the most eminent living German sculptors, has written a book on wrestling in which he expresses strong regret that wrestling should be regarded as a somewhat vulgar branch of sport.

He points out that it was the favorite sport of the Greeks, and was universally practiced by high and low in Germany till the outbreak of the Thirty Years' war. He regards wrestling as an eminent means of advancing public health and improving the physique of the race.

"The church that would win men these days must be up and doing," continued Dr. Fikes. "And while I do not hold that it must offer them all the pleasures the world does, it must give them those which do not run counter to Christianity. This is particularly true of cities like London, New York, Chicago and Pittsburgh. I know the idea of a billiard room on church property will shock trustees and deacons, but they must of it."

SIXTH DISTRICT PLATFORM NAMED

Resolution of Convention That Nominated Thomas McGregor for Legislature.

THE CONVENTION AT KUTTAWA.

Kuttawa, Ky., Aug. 8. (Special)—When the Republicans in the Sixth legislative district of Kentucky in convention assembled, nominated the Hon. Thomas McGregor, of Marshall county, as a candidate for the legislature from the Sixth district composed of Marshall and Lyon counties, they adopted the following platform:

First—We approve the policies and command the ability, integrity and courage of President Roosevelt.

Second—We approve the candidacy of Hon. A. E. Wilson and the rest of the state ticket, chosen by the Republican state convention.

Third—We pledge our nominee for the legislature to vote for an extension of the county unit law, and do all he can for the abolition of the manufacture, sale, barter or loan of whisky or spirituous vinous or malt liquors of any description within the boundaries of the commonwealth of Kentucky.

Fourth—We pledge our nominee for the legislature to vote and do all he can to repeal a large number of obnoxious tax laws passed by the last Democratic legislature, and reduce the tax rate to the lowest possible amount consistent with an efficient administration of the state government.

Fifth—We pledge our nominee for the legislature to vote and do all he can to repeat so much Democratic law, whereby the feather-bed can be taken from under a sick woman and sold by the sheriff for her husband's taxes.

Sixth—We approve the efforts and work of the Dark Tobacco association, in its attempt to throttle the abominable Tobacco Trust, in its securing higher prices for the farmers' output, and in breaking the shackles of slavery that bound the tired hands and feet of the laborer, his wife and children; and we pledge our nominee for the legislature to vote for and use his every influence in the coming session of the legislature to favor and assist the Dark Tobacco association and kindred organizations to raise the farmer and the fruits of his Seventh—We pledge our nominee for the legislature to vote and use all his influence for better schools and school houses, for longer school terms and better pay for teachers and that the public school be taken entirely out of politics, and that the children and their welfare shall have first consideration in all public school matters.

Eighth—We pledge our nominee to the legislature to vote and do all he can to reform the management of our eleemosynary and penal institutions, to the end that they shall be operated by non-partisan boards, upon proper business principles, and their inmates treated humanely.

Ninth—We pledge our nominee for the legislature to vote and do all he can to secure an amendment to the public road laws, in that, that the money raised by taxation, levied by the fiscal court of the county, and collected by the sheriff, shall be spent only upon the public roads in the magisterial district from which the money was collected.

Conclusion—We ask the support of the people of Marshall and Lyon counties regardless of their party affiliations, to vote for the nominee selected by this convention, and for the policies above stated, believing it will insure better days for the grand old commonwealth of Kentucky.

SPOILS OF AUSTRIAN COURT.

How They Are Divided Among the Attendants Upon Royalty.

Court etiquette in Austria is more stringent than in other European courts.

The attendants come in for large perquisites, as comestible articles are never allowed to appear twice on the royal tables. It must be a good thing to be one of these attendants, as to one man falls all the uncorked bottles, to another the wine left in the glasses, and the game, fish and sweets are equally divided in the same way.

Each morning a market is held in the basement of the palace, where the Viennese come to purchase the remains of the banquet.

This custom is a revival of one that obtained great favor in the middle ages. Then the great lords of the land were not above accepting the remains of a feast and the Lord Chancellor was entitled to the ends of one large candle and forty small ones each day.

He in his turn made capital of this perquisite and undoubtedly his exchequer was greatly increased by it at the end of the year.—TIT-BITS.

Ella—Marry you? Why, you could not dress me. Edgar—I wasn't asking for a position as lady's maid.—PICK ME UP.

Charlotte—The second time I saw him I was engaged to him. Kit—What caused the delay?—Evening Telegram.

Fames is so awfully slow that when it finally does come to the average man it is compelled to roost on his monument.

TOO SOCIALISTIC

CHIEF COUNSEL DARROW, OF CHICAGO, DISMISSED.

Other Attorneys in Miners' Cases Refuse to Work With Him Any Longer.

Denver, Colo., Aug. 8.—The serious clash between counsel for the Western Federation of Miners has finally resulted in the dismissal of Clarence Darrow, the Chicagoan. The other attorneys would not stand for his extreme Socialistic doctrines and said he continually expounded Socialism, even at the risk of getting his clients.

Immediately after the close of the trial at Boise the other attorneys said that under no circumstances would they ever engage in any case with Darrow, but it was then announced that they would be dropped and Darrow continued. Today it was announced that Darrow had been dismissed and that Richardson and Hawkins would defend Pettibone.

NEW DIAMOND FIELDS.

Discovered in South Africa—A Rush to the Mines.

One of the greatest sensations in South Africa today is the discovery of diamond fields in the province of Griqualand West, Cape Colony, and at old diggings, where in former years the crudeness of appliances, mode of working and cheapness of diamonds caused them to be abandoned, and where now, under the new conditions of mining and increased value, the stones are found in paying quantities. Thousands are flocking to the new fields.

The matter has exerted so much public interest that the writer determined to proceed to the districts and investigate for himself. Several days were spent in going over the whole area and making personal inspections. These fields consist of the old diggings along the banks of the Vaal river and the newly discovered alluvial deposits parallel to, but some miles from the Vaal river.

The old diggings stretch for many miles, and where the old debris, years ago abandoned as unprofitable, is being dewashed by improved machinery, more than paying the cost of removal, are discovered stones of fair size, unusual brilliancy, and often great value. This is especially the case at "Old Phiel," opposite the little village of Barkley West, on the Vaal, about eighteen miles from Kimberley, where the Phiel Diamond Mining company has acquired the majority of the ground and thrown it open to the public, under generous terms, with the result that these once quiet banks of the Vaal have been almost magically transformed into a hustling hive of toilers, all intent on finding the precious stones, digging from morn till night with an energy and hope that is the great fascination of the diamond and gold digger. It is all reminiscent of California in the fifties.

From the main camp directly opposite to Barkley West, for miles all along the river are the miners, who lease their claims from the company, to which they pay a royalty on all finds. Such is the confidence, that these diggers, who are professionally the most independent class of men in the world, are flocking in large numbers to this new El Dorado, and the majority of them are doing well.

Some are working individually on single claims; others have formed syndicates on a larger scale, with an average return that is most profitable. Some, of course, are not so fortunate but all keep on working, with the hope that it is so ingrained in men of their class, that seldom could a more prosperous or optimistic crowd be found than among this band of workers along the Vaal river.

Men from all parts of the world, nationalities and class are to be found here—colonials, British, Boers, Americans, Australians, Canadians, Germans—living together in harmony, the college graduate, professional man, ex-army officer, retired actor, pugilist, sailor, cowboy and navy, all told together side by side, with a vim and good fellowship gratifying to see, and crime is practically unknown among them.

The finds I saw were on a fairly level average, and in some instances rich, with the stones of great purity and value. In one pocket some thousands of dollars' worth had been discovered, and one Canadian admitted having cleared $1,250 out of a week's work. He had in his possession stones worth $350 from a three days' wash. The revenues derived from the claim licenses and royalties by the company are considerable, and its prospects, as well as those of the individual digger, seem particularly bright.

In addition to these on the river

SEMONIN IS RELEASED.

"Billy" Semonin, county clerk of Jefferson county, has paid up what he owes the state, and has been released from custody. Was that why he was arrested—simply to enforce payment of a debt? If so, he has been done a grave injustice. If he was actually short in his accounts, Kentucky has been done a grave injustice by letting him go. If he was short, there is not the least excuse for his conduct. The money was collected by him for the state, and it never at any moment belonged to him, or to anyone else. The fund should have remained intact every second while in his possession. It is too common a thing for people entrusted with trustADVISES ARREST

funds to use the money, expecting, of course to replace it. That such a person did really intend to put it back does not differentiate his conduct one iota from plain theft, the worst and most cowardly kind of theft. It is simple and easy to confuse trust funds with personal funds and risk the former in an effort to increase the latter. A pickpocket or a high-wayman must have the element of personal courage to undertake his avocation. The stealer of trust funds is simply an irresponsible thief. There is only one way to discourage the misappropriation of trust funds, and that is to make an example of someone in a high place. Such character of thieves may be frightened, for they are essentially weak, and if one conspicuously pays back the funds he has misused and gets free, others may anticipate just such good luck and persist in conduct that will land them in the penitentiary.

If Boyle keeps his saloon open and Mayor Eisler persists in his purpose to arrest him for it, we will soon find out whether or not Judge Barker decided that the mayor's revocation was void.

It is gratifying to those acquainted with subject and who have the best interests of the schools at heart to learn that the school board did not persist in its early announced plan to scatter the Seventh and Eighth grades, but has heeded the advice of Superintendent Carnegy to continue the departmental work inaugurated by Superintendent Lieb. The pupils like this plan and the results of the work have been satisfactory.

THE COST OF COAL OIL.

Government statisticians have gone behind the face of the returns in the Standard Oil investigation, and showed that, while the actual cost of coal oil to the consumer has been reduced since the Standard gained a monopoly, it has not fallen to the level to which natural conditions of competitive trade would have lowered it. In other words, the margin of profits has been increased two cents on the gallon by the Standard Oil company, and when one considers that the output of the company is billions of gallons, the profits of sales thus increased are millions of dollars. This margin of profit is estimated, by including the cost of crude oil, the cost of refining it and putting it on the market. A profit of a few mills on the gallon would aggregate an enormous amount on the year's output, and under a competitive system the margin of profit would be reduced to the minimum. So that, the price of oil has been controlled only by the motive of the Standard Oil company in keeping the price where it could undersell competitors, on whom it is in position to run up the cost of production, by reason of ownership of pipe lines and influence over common carriers.

"The city has absolutely no feeling against Mr. Boyle, nor is there the slightest inclination to work any hardship upon Mr. Boyle, but in the present condition of this case a failure to issue warrants against Mr. Boyle, if he continues to sell liquor in his saloon, would under my judgment, be a neglect of public duty, and I shall advise the police department to issue a warrant for Mr. Boyle whenever he sells liquor in his saloon until he has obtained a new license from the city to do so. This is the extent the city can go in upholding the ordinances of the city against the sale of liquors without license."

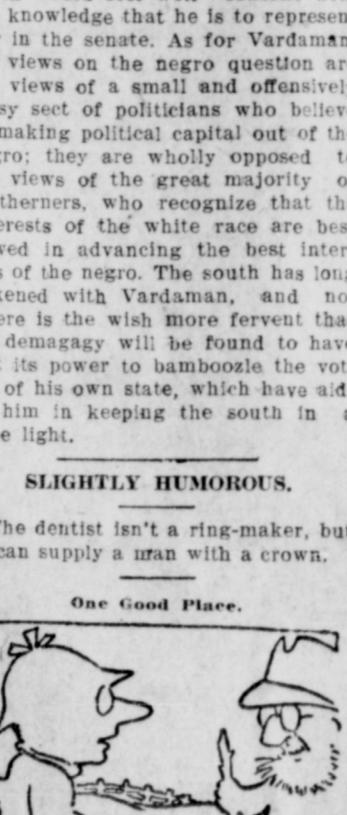

TOO CLOSE FOR COMFORT.

The uncertainty as to the result of the senatorial election in Mississippi is not flattering to the intelligence of its voters or comforting to those of us who desire to see the south again take its place of influence in national affairs, says the Louisville Times. The south has little to thank either Vardaman or Tillman for, and has already suffered too long under the misrepresentation of her views and her people that both have given whenever they opened their mouths. John Sharp Williams may have his shortcomings—no public man has not—but in intellect, character and Americanism he fully measures up to his confederates in the south, and the south would feel well content with the knowledge that he is to represent her in the senate. As for Vardaman, his views on the negro question are the views of a small and offensively noisy set of politicians who believe in making political capital out of the negro; they are wholly opposed to the views of the great majority of southerners, who recognize that the interests of the white race are best served in advancing the best interests of the negro. The south has long sickened with Vardaman, and nothing is the wish more fervent that his demagogic will be found to have lost its power to bamboozle the voters of his own state, which have aided him in keeping the south in a false light.

BIG STORM

DEVASTATES NORTHWEST AND
CAUSES MANY DEATHS.Buildings, Tracks, Wires and Crops
Are Injured By Heavy Wind
Over Prairies.

St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 8.—A special from Albert Lea, Minn., says: A tornado swept across Winnebago county Iowa, and although reports are conflicting, it is known that one persons were killed in Joice village, which was destroyed, and several injured. Some reports say twenty were killed. The course of the storm was from northwest to southeast. The destruction of property is said to be great. The Minneapolis and St. Louis railroad is out of commission and its trains are being run over the Rock Island tracks.

Three Killed, Four Injured.
Mason City, Ia., Aug. 8.—Three persons were killed and four injured and thousands of dollars worth of damage was done through this section of Iowa Tuesday evening by a tornado. The dead are: Ashland Tweed, a farmer of Hantontown, his wife and son.

Two Killed by Lightning.
Pana, Ill., Aug. 8.—A heavy thunder storm swept over this section last night. Lightning killed Franklin Henderson and Peck Roberts. Three men in a wagon were knocked senseless by lightning. Two homes were destroyed at Tower Hill and at Nakomis, the Catholic church was almost demolished. A section of the Big Four tracks was washed out.

Buildings and Tracks Wrecked.
Winona, Minn., Aug. 8.—The most violent wind and rain storm ever known in this section passed over southern Minnesota last evening. Scores of frame buildings in Winona were wrecked. Scarce a shade tree remains undamaged. Railroad traffic east of here is suspended owing to washouts. The Green Bay passenger train, which left Winona last evening was wrecked by the wind east of Winona, two coaches being carried a distance of eight feet. E. Elchenhausen, of Sparta, Wis., a passenger, and Brakeman Schultz, of Marlin, were seriously injured.

Several hundred feet of track of the Chicago & Northwestern railroad north of Trempealeau was washed out.

Wire Service Crippled.
St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 8.—Rain, half, lightning and severe wind storms, the latter approaching the severity of a tornado, late yesterday afternoon did damage in Minnesota, Wisconsin and northern Iowa, which at present is incalculable, owing to the telegraph and telephone lines being badly crippled.

Sixty Miles an Hour in Chicago.
Chicago, Aug. 8.—Because of severe local storms in various sections of the Mississippi valley during the last eighteen hours, telegraph facilities have been greatly impaired. At 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon the Postal company lost all of their wires north of Chicago and last night during a remarkably severe storm which passed over the city, the Western Union and Postal companies lost the greater part of their wires to the west, southwest and north. This storm was one of the most severe in recent years, the wind in the southern part of the city attaining a velocity of fully 60 miles an hour. Much damage was done to trees and shrubbery and some small outhouses were wrecked.

Today both telegraph companies were in bad shape for wires to the west.

IMMIGRATION LAW TO BE TESTED IN COURT.

New Orleans, La., Aug. 8.—The state of Louisiana has locked horns with the federal government over its right to pay the passage of an immigrant who desires to settle in this country. Some time before the new immigration law went into effect the senators and congressmen from this state took the matter up with the Washington officials, but they declin-

HOT WEATHER SUGGESTIONS.
Every chance acquaintance, these hot days, can tell you what to do to keep well and cool, but the safest advise is keep close to Nature.

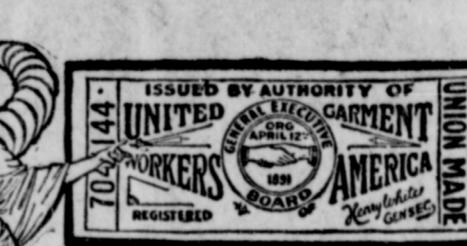

Nature says don't drink very much ice water—use the tempered water.

Don't eat heating dishes, warm meats, and heavy vegetables, but confine yourselves to light vegetables and fruits, and cold meats.

Nature, also says, and its injunction is in strong terms, to keep the system in good condition, the liver, bowels, stomach, kidneys and skin as every one contributes to health or ill health.

Osteopathy is Nature's treatment, and the most rational for all disease, especially the ailments incident to hot weather. Those weak, tired out and run-down conditions; dull headaches; disturbed bowel conditions, and torpid liver yield quickly to its application.

But, let me tell you any time, of people you know well, who will cheerfully tell you what Osteopathy has done and is doing for them. That is unprejudiced evidence and will appeal to you. Dr. G. B. Froage, 516 Broadway, upstairs, phone 1407.

Remarkable Vision---Man Sees Father Die Three Thousand Miles Away

The Rev. Henry Rollings, now taking a special course as a medical missionary in the New York Momeopathic Medical college, Sixty-third street and Eastern boulevard, has had an experience which may result in the postponement of his actual labors after his graduation until he can be induced by the several psychical societies in the larger cities to describe the remarkable mental condition in which he fell, when he saw, as in a vision his father at the point of death when the father was 3,000 miles away. The death-bed scene was corroborated two weeks later in every detail in a letter from England says the New York World.

Dr. Rollings received his theological education in England, and was ordained in the Established church. He came to America with Bishop Sullivan, whose ecclesiastical title was the colonial bishop of the Church of England. His first experience was among the Hudson Bay Indians. He had no superstitions and did not believe in hallucinations except those that came from an impaired digestion, so that his subsequent experiences, attested as they were by documentary evidence, are all the more startling. His whole life had been devoted to study, and he was so ignorant of business forms and procedures that he fell an easy victim to Dave Rothchild, to whom he intrusted a sum of money intended originally for the education of his son in college. In addition to what he deposited in the Federal bank, he turned over $700 in cash to the president of the bank without taking any receipt.

After his investments with the Rothschild gang had about impoverished him, he went to Rochester and was appointed curate of St. Andrew's parish, of which the Rev. Algernon S. Crapsey, subsequently convicted of heresy for denying the physical resurrection of the Savior, was the rector. Dr. Rollings said recently:

"My father was Godfrey Rollings, of Bedfordshire, England, and between us the tie of consanguinity was strong. We kept in constant communication by mail, and my father knew all my trials and all my triumphs—if I had any. After a particularly arduous day, I threw myself on a bed, exhausted. I fell into slumber from which I was awakened by a vivid picture. I sat up in the bed and saw my father as distinctly as I ever saw him in my life and heard him call out: 'My boy, my boy, I am dying.'

"The picture that was presented to me was that of my father lying in bed in a room I did not recognize. I could tell by the general furnishings that it was English. I saw all my relatives there except my sister, and

DIES IN CALIFORNIA WHERE HE WENT FOR HEALTH.

Well Known Lodge Man Succumbs to Lung Trouble at Los Angeles—Funeral.

News of the death of Mr. D. L. Adams last Thursday in Los Angeles, Cal., reached the city last night and was received with great regret. Notice came first to his lodge, the Ingleside lodge of Odd Fellows, and later to his brother-in-law, Mr. S. T. Randall, the insurance man. Mr. Adams had been a sufferer from lung trouble for years, and went west for his health in May, locating in Los Angeles, Cal. He was little benefited, his condition growing more serious after his departure.

He was born in central Kentucky, but removed to this section of the state in early youth with his parents. He was 39 years of age July 31, and moved to the city fifteen years ago from the county. He was connected with the Prudential Insurance company and one of the best known insurance men in this end of the state. He belonged to the Red Men and Odd Fellows and First Baptist church. He is survived by a wife and four brothers, Messrs. Edward and John Adams, of Mississippi; Charles Adams, of Nashville, and Monroe Adams, carpenter, of this city. One sister, Miss Alice Adams, of this county, survives him. The body will be brought here for burial.

Two weeks from that date a letter came from England, telling of the death of my father at the exact hour and day when I had seen him, and with the additional information that just before he breathed his last he had seen me standing at his bedside. The letter announcing my father's death told us that the family had removed from the old homestead to another house in Bedfordshire, which I never had seen. Subsequent inquiry showed that the room as I saw it in my strange mental condition was precisely as it was in fact. My sister's absence, as I learned at the same time, and which made marked impression upon me, was due to illness.

Out of Danger.

STRANGE WILL.

Bloomington, Ill., Aug. 8.—The probating of the will of Col. Thomas Snell is causing lively interest in Central Illinois and Northern Iowa, where he had investments and property valued at approximately $2,000,000.

Of five children, only one son, Richard Snell, of Clinton, Ill., is living. Yet Col. Snell cut off his only son entirely. In fact, the entire estate is put in trust and is not to be distributed until twenty years after the death of the youngest heir. The youngest daughter of Mrs. William V. Dinsmore, of San Jose, Cal., is the youngest heir at law, and should she live until seventy years of age, the estate will remain in trust for twenty years longer than that, or ninety years.

It is estimated that if the intentions of the testator are carried out to the letter and the estate not divided for seventy-five or a hundred years, it will, with its present earnings amount to close to a billion dollars.

The heirs at law will attempt to show that the eccentricity of the testator incapacitated him from making an equitable distribution of his property, and they will seek to have the will set aside. In this they will be strongly aided by the known mental and physical failings of Col. Thomas Snell. Shrewd, close and grasping by nature, he was at times fanciful and flighty.

In war times he proposed the sacking and burning of Louisville because some of the residents refused to quarter the Union troops in their households. For this he was put in jail by Gen. Boyle.

Col. Snell made his first big money building railroads, starting with the Illinois Central, when it was first projected south from Freeport. He built 800 miles of that road and afterward 150 miles of a number of other roads. Later he turned his attention to manufacturing, banking and land investments.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 8.—All editors have been notified that they render themselves liable to fine and imprisonment by publishing without permission anything about the emperor or the members of the imperial family, or any comments upon a trial before the rendering of the verdict. This order is inspired by fear of public criticism that might be made during the coming trial of the persons accused of being implicated in last month's plot against the emperor.

Current Carried in Tape.
George Wesener, employed by the New York and New Jersey Telephone company, was instantly killed here this afternoon by electricity. The case was remarkable in that the current was carried to him through a measuring tape made of linen or cotton and coated with shellac. There was no metal on the tape.

Wesener was assistant to a man who was making measurements in connection with alterations in a pole line. He had one end of the tape, and a man ascended a pole with the other. When the measurement had been taken the man aloft let go the tape and it dropped, but in falling struck the high tension wires used to carry power to the Glen Cove trolley line. This wire carried 12,000 volts. Wesener was winding up the tape and as the other end of the line slip along the wire for a moment he stiffened out and fell. He was dead when a physician arrived from the Nassau hospital, a short distance away. Minneapolis dispatch.

PROSECUTIONS WILL BE INSTI-TUTED AGAINST OFFICIALS.

Times Dispatch Says Harriman Interests Will Come in for At-tention.

New York, Aug. 8.—A dispatch to the Times from Lenox, Mass., says: "That criminal prosecutions will be undertaken in the near future as a result of the Interstate commerce commission's investigation of the Harriman railroad system, was the information obtained here upon authority this afternoon, on the eve of the return of Attorney General Boma-parte to Washington.

Bonaparte, in response to a question, expressed the opinion that a better moral effect would be produced by sending a few prominent men to jail than by a great deal of litigation, however successful, against the corporations they controlled.

"It is the avowed purpose of the department of justice to prosecute criminally any one really responsible for violations of the anti-trust law wherever it can do so with any reasonable probability of success. It does not care to prosecute mere underlings who are known to every one to have acted under the direct authority of their superiors. But if it can get a case against any of the superiors such as justifies a reasonable hope on the part of experienced lawyers that he can be punished personally the department will undoubtedly take advantage of the opportunity as soon as it is presented."

SMUGGLER CLEVERLY NABBED.

Marshal Gts Charles Wallace on U. S. Territory.

St. Ignace, Mich., Aug. 8.—Chief Deputy United States Marshal Ed O'Donnell, who was sent to Sault Ste. Marie to arrest John Louis Eandellman on the charge of passing counterfeit Canadian bills, killed two birds with one stone when he captured Charles J. Wallace, charged with smuggling, and whom the entire custom house force of the Soo, the marshal's force and all local officers had been seeking to entice on American territory for more than a year.

Wallace was charged with smuggling lenses, stereopticon supplies and other optical goods into this country. There is 45 per cent duty on this class of goods, and it was a profitable business, it is asserted. Wallace knew of the warrant, and every trick and subterfuge had been tried by the local authorities without avail to get him across.

Representing that he wanted to engage a photographer to go to Petoskey to take views for sale among the resorters, O'Donnell engaged Wallace in a telephone conversation. Wallace was suspicious at first and laughed at the officer. But O'Donnell then asked to be referred to some other photographer. Wallace's suspicions were quieted; he agreed to come over on the next ferry and did so. The officer met him at the appointed spot. He said he had no use for a photographer, but held a warrant for Wallace. It is said that Wallace was so angry at himself that he wept. He called himself a fool and an idiot and a few other uncomplimentary names. He was examined and bound over under bail in the sum of $1,000, which he was unable to furnish.

Sandelman, it is alleged, was one of the fences for the distribution of the spurious Canadian currency turned over by the hand of counterfeiters recently rounded up by the British authorities in Canada.

Saves a Patient; Loses Life.
Elgin, Ill., Aug. 8.—Dr. Leonard S. Taylor, one of the most successful surgeons of the west, died today giving his life as sacrifice to his profession. In May he performed an operation which saved his patient's life but which has resulted in his losing his own life. In sewing up a wound after an operation for necrosis Dr. Taylor pierced his thumb with the needle. He applied the usual remedy, but the poison entered the blood and his whole body was affected. Dr. Taylor was 40 years old. He is survived by his widow and three children.

ROBINSON CRUSOE'S GUN.

Robinson Crusoe's gun, the identical weapon that was the mainstay of that lonely sailor during his castaway life on Crusoe island, is here in Philadelphias, the jealously guarded property of Miss Hulda B. White, of 291 North Thirty-fourth street.

The recent discovery of that fact is causing the wealthy descendants of Alexander Selkirk, whose adventures were the basis of Daniel De Foe's famous story, no little uneasiness.

British magazines, since the relic has been traced to America, have printed several articles, in which it is described as "rusting uncared for and alone in an atie of some unappreciative Yankee," and many overtures have been made to its present owner for purchase of it, the price offered being much higher than that originally paid for the ancient firearm.

Instead of the attic trouble the Selkirk relatives, the gun occupies a place of honor in the beautiful home of one of West Philadelphia's wealthiest women, and the papers, showing the authenticity of its pedigree, are locked up carefully in the vaults of a local trust company.

Miss White has had the gun for more than thirty years. The story of her ownership is unique, and gives the relic, in her eyes at least, an added value.

Four years ago a distant cousin left Philadelphia for a tour of England and Scotland. Knowing Miss White's penchant for collecting old things, he kept his eyes open for odd bits, and many a piece in Miss White's large collection came from him. While in Largo, the old-fashioned Fifeshire town in which Alexander Selkirk was born, he noticed in pass-Clarksville, Tenn., Aug. 8.—A note was received by A. J. Miss Jones is well qualified as a teacher, and it had never developed that she had anyone opposed to her. The warning is thought to be caused by ill feeling over Tobacco Growers' association matters.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 8.—Emperor Nicholas reached Peterhof today returning from his trip on the imperial yacht Standard to Swinemunde, where he was in conference with Emperor William.

Loan Report Not Confirmed.
There is no information to be had here regarding the report that Germany is to loan Russia $62,500,000 for reconstructing of her fleet, with the understanding that all orders for warships be placed in Germany. Neither the foreign embassies nor the foreign office could shed any light on the report, but $62,500,000 is regarded as a mere bagatelle and the condition that Russia place all orders for warship construction with German firms is declared to be most improbable. The government has recently given orders for the construction of warships to the various Russian firms, but the full project for reconstruction of the fleet has not yet been formulated. It is noteworthy, in this connection, that the opinion is gaining ground in military and other circles that Russia will have no use for a fleet except for coast defense.

Wants Russia's Assistance.
Persia has asked the assistance of the Russian foreign office to secure a settlement of her frontier dispute with Turkey. She claims that Turkish troops have penetrated forty miles into Persian territory, terrorizing the population by fire and sword. The original delimitation of the Turk-Persian frontier was made by Russian and English surveyors in the sixties.

to Attend Picnic

More Committees Appointed To Look After Details of the Celebration.

NEWS FROM THE RAILROADS.

Illinois Central shops will close August 14 when the Illinois Central shop employees picnic is given, and every employee except those who work on emergency cases, will have an opportunity to attend. This is the decision of higher officials, and the committees find that many more tickets will be in demand than at first estimated.

Yesterday afternoon the following committees were appointed to further arrange for the picnic. They immediately went to work.

Finance committee—Thomas Yopp, James Hutchins, Thomas Hoffich; Printing committee—Clarence Ellithorpe, George Hannin and Thomas McGarrigal; Refreshment committee—John McGarrigal, Virge Berry and Clarence Ellithorpe; Decorating committee—Steve Barger, Percy Judd and Less Arnold; Firemen ticket committee—Howard Pleasant; Music committee—George Hannin, Thomas Hoffich, Percy Judd; Amusement committee—Thomas Hoffich, Hugh Miller; Basket committee—Less Arnold, Percy Judd; Floor committee—Clarence Ellithorpe, Joe Vogt and Charles F. Akers.

Railroad Notes.

It is stated that no intoxicants will be allowed on the grounds, and any one caught with a bottle of liquor will have to surrender it. Absolute sobriety is what the committees desire, and every precaution to prevent an accident will be taken.

James Jeffries, 45 years old, an employee of the Illinois Central at West Point, on a derrick car gang, lies in the Illinois Central hospital seriously injured, the effect of being caught between two rails dropped from a car. He realized his danger and dropped to his knees, getting in between the two rails. He lost the third finger of his left hand and is bruised on the left side, where the rails settled. He will cover.

C. Hutchison, 38 years old, an Illinois Central boilermaker, was injured by dropping a draft sheet on his left hand yesterday.

J. E. Smith, the popular Illinois Central blacksmith tore the thumb from his right hand while handling shears and a piece of iron at the Illinois Central shops this week.

Last night shortly after dark a car of cross ties being pulled from the main line from a passing track at Eleventh street and Broadway on the Illinois Central side swiped an engine and turned over. The car had to be shoved off the right of way. Following the accident by only a few minutes came the second wreck between Jefferson street and Broadway when a car load of cotton struck a coal pile and turned over. It was turned over and away from the right or way. No trains were delayed by the accident, and the damage will amount to little.

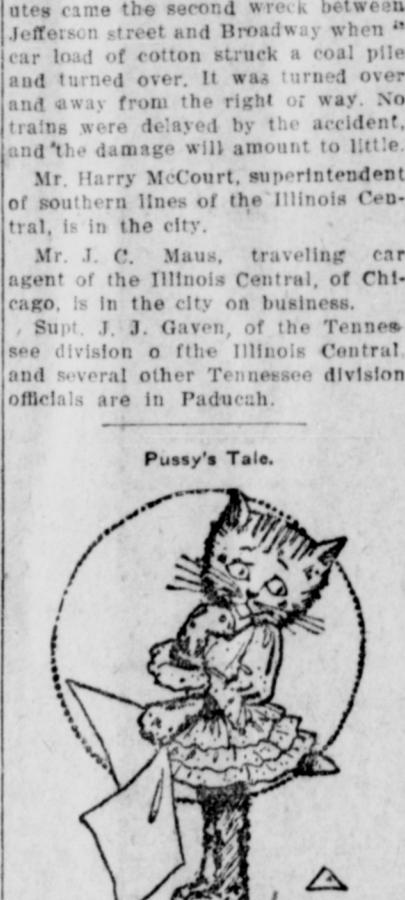

Mr. Harry McCourt, superintendent of southern lines of the Illinois Central, is in the city.

Mr. J. C. Mauz, travelling car agent of the Illinois Central, of Chicago, is in the city on business.

Beloit, Wis., is agitating for the passage of an ordinance limiting the number of saloons to one for each 900 inhabitants, as was done last September in Rockford, Ill.

The Rockford ordinance provides that there shall be no more licenses issued for saloons until there shall be of those now in existence less than one for each 900 of the population of Rockford as ascertained by the then last preceding school census based on the proportion of two adults for each individual under twenty-one years of age.

TRY A SUN WANT AD

Very few people appreciate the great value of the small want ads in the newspapers :: ::

Some of the Things The Sun's Have Done

Very few of the people, when reading the want ads, which probably 85 per cent of the readers do, ever realize just what splendid opportunities a three or four line notice will do.

A few days ago a reader of The Sun, who had just installed himself in a flat, purchased new furniture for the entire establishment, had to leave the city, due to a change in his business. "What shall I do with this outfit," he thought. Then he remembered the Sun want ads, put four lines in for a few days and sold all the furniture, at splendid prices, in a few

This is but one of the many incidents of a similar nature. GHOST IN A FARM HOUSE PROVES TO BE A SNAKE.

Bloomington, Ill., Aug. 8.—Queer noises emanating from the walls of the residence of Peter Lee, a farmer of Vermilion county, led to the belief that the structure was haunted. The mystery was solved this week when Mr. Lee espied a monster snake in the grass near the house. The snake made a dash for the house and tried to enter a small opening in the foundation.

It was killed by Lee, however, and was found to measure seven feet in length. Investigation showed that the snake spent the nights in an attic, going up between the walls, its movements in going back and forth making the unexplained noises. A stove-pipe furnished heat for the reptile in cold weather.

It is not generally known that the bee's sting is a trowel, not a rapier. It is an exquisite delicate little trowel with which the bee finishes off the honey cress, injects a little preservative inside and seals it up. With this trowel-like sting the bee puts the final touches on the dainty and wonderful work. With the sting it pats and shapes the honey cell as a mason pats and shapes a row of bricks. Before sealing up the cell it drops a little bit of poison into the honey. This is formic acid. Without it the honey would spoil. Most of us think the bee's sting, with its poison, is a weapon only. It is a weapon secondarily, but primarily it is a magic trowel, a trowel from whose end, as the honey cells are built up, a wonderful preserving fluid drips.
